

1 Corinthians 3:18 – 4:5

Who are you?

A person stands at the end of a long wooden pier that stretches from the bottom center towards the horizon. The pier is made of light-colored wooden planks. The water is calm and reflects the vibrant colors of the sunset sky. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds in shades of pink, orange, and blue, with a bright glow near the horizon where the sun has set. In the distance, a faint city skyline and hills are visible on the horizon line.

1 Corinthians 3:18 – 4:5

Let the Lord define you.

Not others

Not self

But the Lord

“It is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by any human court. In fact, I do not even judge myself. ... but He who judges me is the Lord.” (1 Cor. 4:3-4)

1 Corinthians 3:18 – 4:5

Accept your foolishness

Worldly wisdom kills - 3:19

Worldly wisdom is worthless - 3:20

Let no one deceive himself. If anyone among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise. (1 Corinthians 3:18)

1 Corinthians 3:18 – 4:5

Accept your assignment

This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God (1 Corinthians 4:1)

1 Corinthians 3:18 – 4:5

Receive your reward

For all things are yours,²² whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas or the world or life or death or the present or the future—all are yours,²³ and you are Christ's, and Christ is God's. (1 Corinthians 3:21-23)
